Absolutely and I apologize if my email came across as pestering. Sometimes my emails go to junk mail, so I follow-up to be sure.

Ms. Frasier,

Please be advised that my availability to respond to emails is extremely limited at the moment due to my pregnancy, limited time in the office, and my last day in the office being 9/30. I should be able to respond to you by tomorrow afternoon. I'd appreciate your patience.

Sincerely,

Stefania Ramos Birch, Esq.

Stefania,

Thank you for your call last week regarding the third party subpoena that was served on you. I'm writing to memorialize our conversation. You agreed to look for responsive documents, and that we would postpone the deposition for several weeks given the upcoming birth of your child. I would like to set some timelines regarding the documents. Would it be reasonable for you to look for the documents and get back to me by October 14th? As for the deposition, one thought I had was to do a brief deposition over Zoom this week or next, so that it is not looming over your head. Otherwise, could we look for a date in mid to late November or early December?

Best regards,

Kirsten Fraser
